NEWS RELEASE

OLAM ENTERS INTO A JV WITH ADM IN CAMEROON

Singapore, October 27, 2006 - Olam International Ltd ("OIL") and Archer Daniels Midland Company ("ADM") have concluded a joint acquisition of Usicam, Cameroon from SAGA SA, France, a Groupe Bolloré company. In addition, Usicam has acquired the cocoa processing assets of SDV, Cameroon - another Groupe Bolloré company. OIL and ADM will each own 50% of Usicam.

OIL and ADM plan to further upgrade and enhance the plant to meet their objective of achieving additional quality processing of cocoa beans. Usicam will be one of the largest usines for cocoa drying, cleaning, warehousing and other related activities in Cameroon. Usicam will be integral in securing high quality Cameroon cocoa beans for both the companies.

OIL and ADM have partnered to ensure that cost economies and usage efficiencies may be offered to the cocoa suppliers in the country before they export the beans. Both companies have a commitment to the improvement and the development of the cocoa economy of Cameroon and ensuring the consistent supply of high quality cocoa for their customers' specific needs.

Cameroon is an important cocoa origin, producing about 160,000 mt of cocoa per annum. This cocoa is highly regarded as an ingredient for chocolate and related food products.
