

STATEMENT FROM CONGOLAISE INDUSTRIELLE DES BOIS (CIB) REGARDING FSC® CERTIFICATION

London, October 3, 2014 – Following a routine annual audit of the FSC® certificates for its Forest Management Units (FMUs) of approximately 1.3 million hectares in the Republic of Congo (Brazzaville), Olam International's subsidiary, Congolaise Industrielle des Bois (CIB), is making customers aware of the suspension of one certificate covering the Pokola/Kabo FMU. The FSC® certificate for the Loundoungou/Toukoulaka FMU is unaffected.

CIB has held FSC® certificates in the Republic of Congo for eight years. However, in this instance, CIB recognises that some more work needs to be done in certain areas and, in line with the company's commitment to FSC® certification, has already started taking effective steps to ensure that the Pokola/Kabo FSC® certificate is reinstated without undue delay.

CIB would like to reiterate that all wood products shipped from its Loundoungou/Toukoulaka FMU are still FSC® certified and that wood products shipped from all CIB FMUs are fully compliant with the EU Timber Regulations and Lacey Act.

About Congolaise Industrielle des Bois (CIB)

Acquired in 2011, CIB is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Olam International. Under the principles of Sustainable Forest Management CIB operates three large forest management units and one forest production unit in the Sangha and Likoula Provinces of Republic of Congo (Brazzaville). An innovative social mapping project allows communities living in the forests to actively participate in forest resource management. The company currently employs around 900 workers in one of the Republic of Congo's more remote areas and has invested in infrastructure to ensure their wellbeing and community development. This includes building modern housing, schools, a library, hospital and clinics, sports fields, plus a television and radio station. CIB has also developed a comprehensive HIV/AIDS prevention and treatment programme that has been well-supported by international donors.
